Academic flexibility led to curriculum enrichment and enhancement to include components of employability, innovation, research and social relevance.

With the advent of Autonomy the college explored the opportunities of academic flexibility to not only introduce 8 new courses like B.A(Mass Communication & Journalism), B.A(Journalism, Psychology, English), BBA, B.Com(Professional), B.Sc (MPC), B.Sc (NHAEM), MCJ, and M.Com(Finance), but also revamp the existing courses to include components of emerging areas, employability, research and skill development.

After a meticulous need – assessment, procedures of regulatory bodies are followed to design and develop a curriculum which caters to the diverse needs of the student community. The College maintains robust industry academia linkages along with MoUs and collaborations with agencies, organizations and eminent people and thus 25 certificate courses, 13 Interdisciplinary papers and Elective options/areas of specialisation were introduced in third year to give a boost to the employability quotient of the student and to provide wider options for students to pursue higher studies and research.

A word of appreciation for Rev. Fr. Richard, the Vice Principal who ensures that the discipline in the college is maintained. My deep felt gratitude also goes to Deans, Heads of the Departments, Controller of examinations, Placement officer, Physical Instructor and all the faculty members, Admin office, Librarians and the support staff.

My whole hearted thanks to all the stakeholders – Governing body members, Academic council members, IQAC members, BOS members, parents, well-wishers and alumni who have been in constant touch with us during the year and undoubtedly their valuable suggestions have helped St. Joseph's scale greater academic heights.

I look forward to your continuous support.

Thank you and God bless you!
